OUR CPA MARKETING MODEL

On the off chance that the idea of cost-per-action is unfamiliar to you, here's the manner by which CPA affiliate marketing works.

CPA Affiliate Marketing is a Risk - Free Alternative to a Traditional Media Buy

With a customary media advert, you pay up-front to ensure ad placement. Yet, regardless of how adequately you focus, some portion of that buy is wasted. You could pay on a cost per click (CPC) basis, however, there's no assurance that the clicks you pay for will convert into clients.

CPA is Performance-Based – You Pay just For Results

With CPA affiliate marketing, you make your campaign available for placement through a network of digital publishers across online and mobile channels. As opposed to paying them up-front to run your advertisements, you pay them an abundance—or "payout for the actual conversions they deliver. That conversion can be a sale, completed lead form, subscription, sign up, download, video view or any other measurable consumer action that you wish to generate and it makes business sense to pay to obtain.

The 2 key points of interest of the CPA Marketing model are:

- Zero advertisement waste – you pay just for results.
- More broad media placement – the autonomous online publishers who run CPA campaigns are masters in driving conversions to a given group of campaigns by means of at least one or more online channels.

In fact, most are so expert that you could not afford to hire them for your marketing team (they make more as independent publishers). Be that as it may, you can give them something to do for you by means of the CPA affiliate marketing model and reach more consumers through a bigger number of channels than you could reach individually.

INTEGRATION & TRACKING

Tracking Methods

Integrate with 150+ top Ad platform partners, configure ad platform partners and keep track of every performance metric in real-time.

API

- APIs are a great way to automatically retrieve and read data and statistics.
- We offer the most efficient way for our publishers to view their performance through our global postback server-2-server.

As an Advertiser who wants to automatically send updates, we have two options for your growth:

Postback / s2s

- Global postback enables you to send automatic updates to the Bloomclicks system for interpretations (from click to conversion)

Pixel / Cookie's / Cookieless / i-Frame

- If you don't have a postback s2s system, we offer pixel, cookie, cookieless, and i-frame tracking with just one link to track your advertising journey.
